Access the Washington Post online compliments of the Poudre River Public Library District.

1. Click on Washington Post on the Research page.
2. Fill out the online form. An email address is required.

3. Once you sign up, click on “Start Reading” and you will be redirected to the Washington Post website.
4. An email will be sent giving directions on how to access and manage the newsletters and alerts.
5. Access expires after 7 days. To continue reading, login again using the same email and password.